

PRESS

TMG PARTNERS

Date April 27 2012
Publication San Francisco Business Times
Topic Most Influential Bay Area Women 2012 Honorees
Headline Denise Pinkston honored

Denise Pinkston

Partner, TMG Partners

Residence: Berkeley

Education: B.A., history, M.C.P., University of California, Berkeley.

Board memberships: Emeryville Transportation Management Association board chair.

Proudest professional accomplishment: Leading the design and development of projects such as the Public market in Emeryville, which brings the community together to a vital and enduring destination.

Best advice you would give to young women: Surround yourself with great people and inspire excellence with drive, honesty, integrity and humor.

Best strategy for success in a touch economy: Embrace innovation, persist until you succeed and leave fear and distractions behind. Appreciate the colleagues, friends and family who support you in the process.

What makes you influential: I am a pragmatic optimist. I assess the obstacles and lead my teams around them by creating new ways to delivery exciting projects.